HST Calls On Dock Workers To End Crippling Strike

Rebel Leader Refuses To Heed Appeal

New York (AP) — In the interests of national defense, President Truman last night called on rebel east coast dock strikers to "return to work at once."

He said the wildcat strike has "virtually paralyzed" the great ports of Boston and New York and he added:

"Equipment and material vitally needed for national defense is not moving."

The striking stevedores were mapping plans for even bigger picket lines when Mr. Truman made his appeal to them.

The New York Herald Tribune quoted strike leader John (Gene) Sampson as saying the President's appeal "doesn't change the situation one bit."

He was quoted as saying the men would remain on strike.

AFL longshore leader Joseph P. Ryan, who has tried in vain to get his rebel stevedores back to work, retorted:

"How can he reject the President's appeal without taking the matter up with his union members?"

Ryan said a majority of New York dockers are ready to go back to the piers anytime "irresponsible groups" call off their wildcat pickets.

"This work stoppage has a direct and immediate effect on our defense effort," the President said.

The strike was put in White House hands a short time earlier amid desperate pleas that the President halt it. His Federal mediators said they tried and failed to win peace. They quit Thursday when talks broke down.

That left the next step up to Mr. Truman. His back-to-work call was his first move. If it fails, there are several concrete steps he can take — including proclamation of a national emergency and use of the Taft-Hartley law.

The New York Board of Trade, latest to raise its voice, urged the President to halt the strike, using troops where needed to open struck Army piers.

"A staggering amount of vital defense materials are being tied up in the port," the Army's Corps of Engineers reported.

CIO Marine cooks and stewards threw their weight behind the AFL longshoremen's strike in a telegram which said:

"We will leave any ship you are picketing and refuse to sail any ship you declare hot."

Rebel dock hands are trying to reopen a newly signed wage contract.

The wildcat waterfront strike spread during the day to Portland, Me., and Philadelphia. New York and Boston have been tied up for days. More than 100 ships are idle.

Repeated pleas for federal intervention under the Taft-Hartley law have brought no response from President Truman. However, his Cabinet has discussed the snowballing waterfront crisis.

Reserves Must Serve 24 Months

Washington (AP) — The Army said yesterday that, under present plans, organized reservists who have been called to arms must serve 24 months and that members of organized reserve units will be released as individuals, not in units, after they complete the term of duty.

Many of the units were only partly up to strength when called up and had to be built up with troops from other sources. Such sources, including the draft and replacements, will be used to continue the unit disintegrations.

Members of National Guard units now on active duty will likewise be released individually after 24 months' service.

Banker Admits Embezzling $30,256 To Pay Education Costs For Daughter Now Dead

Pittsburgh, (AP)—FBI agents last night arrested a 52-year-old Indiana, Pa., banker on a charge of embezzling $30,256.

He is the 14th person and the 10th banker to be arrested for embezzlement in the Pittsburgh district in the past 13 months. The cases now involve more than $3,036,000.

Latest to be taken into custody is Paul J. Straittiff, cashier and director at the First National bank of Indiana.

Carnegie Hero Medal Awarded

Pittsburgh (AP) — An airline stewardess who died trying to save a baby from death in a burning airplane is one of 27 persons in 15 states whose acts of heroism were recognized yesterday by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

A bronze medal was awarded in each case. Pensions totaling $3,000 a year were granted in four cases and death benefits totaling $1,250 were given in two cases. Awards totaling $8,250 were made in 18 cases for educational and other worthy purposes.

The heroic airline stewardess was Mary Frances Housley, 21, of Fountain City, Tenn.

The commission said she died in an attempt to save Brenda Joyce Smith, four months old, and others from burning last January 14, at the Philadelphia International airport.

The plane in which Brenda, her mother and 23 other passengers were riding crashed near a runway in an upright position.

Another Pennsylvania incident brought an award to Walter Legins, 39, of Alden, Pa. He was cited for descending into a 1,410-foot coal mine shaft and rescuing a fellow worker trapped by a cave-in.

Legins is credited with saving the life of Stephen C. Grozio, 49, in a Nanticoke mine Nov. 20, 1950. Two other miners lost their lives in the cave-in.

10 Die In Accident

Bogota, Colombia, (AP) — A passenger bus was crowded off the road over a steep embankment 90 miles northwest of here yesterday and varying press reports said from 10 to 14 persons were killed and 17 to 20 injured.

Senators Believe Railroads, Brotherhoods Ready To Settle

Washington, (AP)—Two Senator urged President Truman yesterday to call a White House conference on settling the nation-wide rail dispute. They expressed belief afterwards he might do so.

Senators Murray (D-Mont) and O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) both expressed the view that the railroads "are ready for a settlement" under which operation of the carriers could be returned from the Army to private ownership.

O'Mahoney said Senator Murray had frequent conferences with representatives of the brotherhoods and invited him to put the case before the President.

"We told the President we felt the opportunity is here to put the railroad labor act back on the track," O'Mahoney said. "We said we felt if the President called representatives of the railroad and the brotherhood to the White

28th Division Praised As Good Soldiers

Camp Atterbury, Ind. (AP)—The 18,000 trained infantrymen of the 28th Division marched out yesterday in their last training camp parade before joining the Western European Army next month.

"You have been good soldiers," said their commander, Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler.

The Bloody Bucket Division was lined up in trim ranks across the browning turf of the Atterbury air strip in golden October sunshine.

The Camp has been home to the Keystone for almost 14 months since they left their National Guard armories in Pennsylvania. Never since the 28th was set up in 1917 has the division as a whole stayed so long in one place, General Strickler said.

Lt. Gen. Charles L. Bolte, the ranking Pentagon officer at the review, said plans since last Spring have called for the 28th to go to southern Germany. The final decision, he said, will be up to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Army brass and civil officials from both Pennsylvania and Indiana watched the final review. Some of the 12,000 spectators swarmed to the side of the road as the troops began marching in review, keeping military police busy pushing them out of the way.

General Bolte, who is the Army's deputy chief of staff for plans, told the troops:

"You have forged yourself into a magnificent weapon for war and peace. I have never seen better troops. Good luck and Godspeed."

Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. Fine presented a flag of his State to General Strickler, himself a former lieutenant governor of that State.

"You are symbolic of the hope of the world," Governor Fine told the troops. "He who would be greatest of all must serve all."

Indiana's Gov. Henry F. Strickler said, "We like to think you are our soldiers and our defenders as much as Pennsylvania's. May you contribute to freedom and liberty around the world."

The reviewing stand was crowded with notables, including Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), a former 28th commander.

Egypt's Attitude Toward Britain Remains Same

Cairo, Egypt (AP) — Egypt's Interior Minister Fouad Serag el-Din Pasha said last night Winston Churchill's election victory will make no difference in his government's attitude toward Britain.

"It makes no difference to us whether Conservative or Labor (wins)," said el-Din. "The only question is that of policy."

He said the only reason Egypt has not already been destroyed by British imperialism is "because we are always resisting."

"Western imperialism," el-Din said, "is a greater potential danger to Egypt than Communism."

CPL. WILLIAM Hungerford, of Binghamton, N. Y., is pictured with his Japanese war bride, Tokyo, 27, and their 16-month-old daughter, Ellen, on their arrival at La Guardia field, N. Y., from Tokyo. In service in the Orient and Korea for five years, the six-foot, six-inch tall soldier will remain in the United States.

Stroudsburg High Students Ring Doorbells In Non-Political Get-Out-The Vote Effort

An election campaign with no partisan political overtones may sound incredible at this time of year, but that's precisely what students of Stroudsburg High school are now conducting in their borough.

The campaign is one of those "knock on every door" affairs with which professional politicians have long been identified. But there's no mention of "vote Democratic" or "vote Republican." The students, members of the social science department at the high school, don't care who the people they contact may vote for—as long as they vote.

Allies Bag 2 Red Jets

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Saturday (AP) — American jets shot down two more Russian-made MIG-15s yesterday in the continuing series of flashing dogfights over northwest Korea.

Three Red jets were reported damaged.

Ground action slowed while subcommittees bargained at the Panmunjom truce talks, but some Allied gains were made in western and central Korea.

Although relatively minor, the fighting was bitter—some of it hand-to-hand.

From naval headquarters came a belated report that the U. S. heavy cruiser Helena and the destroyer escort Ulbert M. Moore were hit by Red shore batteries off the northeast coast. One sailor was killed and two were wounded aboard the destroyer escort October 17, four were wounded aboard the Helena October 22. Both ships remained in action.

Plane Crash Kills White

Washington (AP) — Thomas N. White, wealthy Cleveland financier and big game hunter, was killed with his wife and a daughter-in-law yesterday when their small private plane crashed into the Potomac river.

The cause of the accident was unknown. The plane suddenly plunged into the mud in about a foot of water as it came in for a landing at Washington National airport. All three died instantly.

White, 57, was president of the Commonwealth Securities Corp. His grandfather was the founder of the White Sewing Machine Co. and his father, Windsor T. White, founded the White Motor Co.

On his mother's side, he was a grandson of Liberty E. Holden founder of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He was also mayor of Hunting Valley, a fashionable Cleveland suburb.

His wife, the former Kathleen York, 56, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert White, 29, of Cleveland, were riding as passengers in the plane, a single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza, with White at the controls.

White had been en route to visit his old friend, Gen. George C. Marshall, retired former secretary of defense, at Marshall's home in Leesburg, Va.

Truman Rebukes Striking Union

Washington (AP) — President Truman said yesterday unions and management "owe it to the American people" to keep production going while they have disputed before the Wage Stabilization board (WSB).

His statement was made in an exchange of correspondence with Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the WSB, concerning settlement of a dispute at a Garfield, Utah copper smelting plant.

Indirectly, it took on the appearance of a rebuke to the CIO United Automobile Workers since that union has refused to call off a strike in 10 divisions of the Borg-Warner Corp. Despite referral of the case to the WSB, the Borg-Warner strike, involving about 7,500 workers, has been going on since October 9.

New York (AP)—The Immigration service yesterday ordered French maestro Emmanuel out of the country for lying about his marital status.

Red Failure To Insist On 38th Brightens Prospects

Munsan, Korea, Saturday, (AP)—Communist abandonment of the 38th parallel as a demarcation line somewhat brightened Korean cease-fire prospects today.

The line which the Reds did suggest at yesterday's sub-committee meeting in Panmunjom was quickly rejected by the United Nations negotiators "because it does not provide military protection for our troops."

However, Red failure to insist on the old 38th parallel boundary was the most important development since the truce talks began last July 10.

For the first time it lifted the issue out of the political arena and placed it where the U. N. said it always belonged—in the military field. The Reds and the U. N. discussed the issue further at Panmunjom at 11 a. m. today (9 p. m., Friday, EST).

The delegates met for two hours and then recessed until 3 p. m. Replying to a United Nations proposal for a "buffer zone," the Communists yesterday suggested a demilitarized zone up to 15 miles south of the present battle front.

This would require the Allies to give up such territories as the "Iron Triangle," Heartbreak Ridge and the Punchbowl, all won at great cost.

It would leave the U. N. holding territory as much as 12 to more than 30 miles in some places in North Korea.

Republicans Hail Attlee Defeat As Good Omen

Washington (AP) — Republican party leaders interpreted the fall of Britain's Socialist government yesterday as a good omen for them in next year's presidential election, but the Democratic high command didn't see it that way.

"The issues in the British election were not those which will be debated in this country in 1952," the Democratic National committee said in a statement.

Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, GOP leader in the House, said the return of Winston Churchill's Conservatives to power will strengthen the fight against Socialism and "hearten every lover of freedom throughout the world."

"The British took a fling at Socialism, and they obviously want no more of it," Martin said.

Youth Accuses Women

Anahem, Calif. (AP) — A nine-year-old schoolboy testified yesterday two women officers of a private school burned the wrists of himself and two other boys as punishment and then prayed for healing. Raymond Charles Turner said Mrs. Julia Elizabeth Ward, 46, held a lighted match under his wrist while Mrs. Carolyn Jane Munger, 25, held his arm.

Mob Smashes Signs

Tehran, Iran (AP) — A mob of 500, shouting "down with Churchill" yesterday smashed street signs marking Avenue Churchill in downtown Tehran.

There Probably Will Be Sequel To This Story

Turin, Italy, (AP)—A non-smoking salesman asked his pretty wife about the box of cigars and the smell of stale cigar smoke around the house when he came home Thursday night.

Although she usually smokes only cigars, she told her husband she had developed a taste for cigars—liked them in fact.

It all came out when she brought her to a hospital here saying she was "awfully sick."

"I made her smoke one," he told doctors, "and this is the result."

The new Cabinet probably will take office Monday. The new Parliament will meet Wednesday to elect a speaker. It will hold its first formal session November 6.

The Labor party polled the highest popular vote ever given a single British party, but lost the contest because many of its whopping majorities came in the normally Labor voting industrial areas. Conservative strength was more evenly spread.

Tito To Get U. S. Weapons

Washington (AP) — The United States has agreed to send modern American weapons to Communist Yugoslavia to help arm the country against the possibility of outside attack, officials said yesterday.

They said American and Yugoslav authorities, after weeks of secret negotiations, have agreed on the terms of a military aid pact which will govern the flow of these weapons.

A formal signing ceremony is scheduled to take place in Belgrade "within a few days."

This is the first time in the post-war period that the United States has agreed to send American arms to the government of a Communist nation. It is deemed necessary, however, to support Yugoslavia's stand against the Kremlin and encourage similar independence in Soviet satellite nations.

But Churchill was confident. "We shall use not only our party strength but the great strength of this country to bring about a restoration of Britain's fortunes," the old warrior said in congratulating his Conservative party workers on their performance.

Parents Jailed Later Released

Elyria, O. (AP) — The parents of a hockey-playing schoolboy were released from jail yesterday after they agreed to try to keep him going to classes.

The couple, Henry Woolfrom, 59, and his wife, Berta, 44, from nearby North Ridgeville, were sentenced to 10 days Thursday by Justice of the Peace James P. Horn.

They refused then to sign a $100 personal bond to ensure their son, James, 16, wouldn't play hockey any more. Woolfrom explained he didn't know whether he could keep the boy in school.

But after 23 hours behind bars they signed the bond with the understanding that "sincere efforts" would be made to keep James in school.

Applaud Results

London (AP)—Return of Winston Churchill was applauded throughout most of Europe last night as a boost for western world leadership and the prospects of a united states of Europe.

Conservatives To Strive For Better Times

London (AP) — King George VI restored Winston Churchill to the prime ministry last night as the victor in a hard fought election which ends six years of Socialist Labor rule. Churchill pledged to work for better times.

The Conservative party led by Churchill won 319 or more seats in the 625-seat House of Commons, and thereby majority control and the right to name the new government. However its popular vote was about one per cent less than that of the Laborites in Thursday's general election.

With five seats still unaccounted for, Clement R. Attlee's Labor party had 293 seats. The Liberals five and others three.

Churchill, 77, next month, returns to No. 10 Downing St., as the oldest prime minister Britain has had since Liberal William Gladstone, 85, resigned in 1894.

The King is still ailing from a lung operation, but he received Churchill and Attlee individually at Buckingham palace. Attlee went first to resign his positions as prime minister and first lord of the treasury. Churchill followed to receive the King's appointment, which gives him the "last chance" he sought to work for peace.

Churchill and his chief deputy, Anthony Eden, began considering a Cabinet list for approval by the King. Most of the new ministers will be members of a "shadow cabinet" kept in existence during the Conservatives' six years on the sidelines. Eden is slated to succeed Laborite Herbert Morrison as foreign minister.

The new Cabinet probably will take office Monday. The new Parliament will meet Wednesday to elect a speaker. It will hold its first formal session November 6.

The Labor party polled the highest popular vote ever given a single British party, but lost the contest because many of its whopping majorities came in the normally Labor voting industrial areas. Conservative strength was more evenly spread.

Labor's popular vote for 616 districts was 13,877,922 compared to 13,665,595 for the Conservatives. The Labor party had held the previous high record for the popular vote with 13,295,736 in the February, 1950, poll.

Percentage-wise, Labor had 49.3 of the popular vote, the Conservatives 48.3 and the Liberals 2.4. Labor's winning percentage in 1950 was 46.7. The Conservatives had 43.9 then and the Liberals 9.4.

With the knowledge that about 14,000,000 Britons voted Labor, both Attlee and Aneurin Bevan, a left-wing rival for the Labor leadership, realize they are in a strong position to influence Churchill's administration.

But Churchill was confident. "We shall use not only our party strength but the great strength of this country to bring about a restoration of Britain's fortunes," the old warrior said in congratulating his Conservative party workers on their performance.

The Conservative hold on the House will be only slightly firmer than that of Attlee, who had clung to office with an overall majority of only six seats since the election of Feb. 23, 1950.

Turmoil in the Middle East, a hazardous trade balance and home front shortages are among the pressing problems which immediately will command his attention.

In a statement to party officials and election workers at Conservative headquarters Churchill, with tears in his eyes, declared:

"There lies before us a difficult time, a hard time.

"I have no hesitation in saying that I have seen worse, and had to face worse.

"I do not doubt we shall come through because we shall use not only party forces but we shall use the growing sense of the need to put Britain back in her place—a need which burns in the hearts of men far beyond these shores."

The news of the old warrior's return to power had hardly reached the United States when rumors began circulating in Washington that he will go there for a meeting with President Truman. This could be the opening gambit in Churchill's world peace campaign.

Protestants To Assemble Sunday Night

Tomorrow is Reformation Sunday in Protestant churches throughout the world. Once again the minds of the faithful will be centered upon the historic occasion when Martin Luther nailed his 95 theses to the door of the Castle church at Wittenberg. The Monroe County Ministerial association has planned a county-wide service for the occasion.

The service will be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church. The worship will be in charge of the officers of the association, with Rev. Hubert Newton reading the scripture lesson, Rev. George Weinland offering the pastoral prayer, and Rev. Claude Hollenman pronouncing the benediction.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Harold J. MacMurray, pastor of the Mountainhome Methodist church. His subject will be "Where Protestantism Stands."

Special music will be provided by a combined volunteer choir of over 100 voices. A trumpet trio and a vocal duet will also be heard.

Upon the completion of his theological education he served his own people as a Lutheran pastor until 1944 when he left his native country to escape the Communists. He lived in West Germany as a displaced person from 1944 to 1950 and continued to preach the gospel among the displaced persons and refugees in camps throughout this section of Germany. His work was sponsored by the Lutheran World Federation, a world-wide organization of Lutherans.

St. John's Makes Plans For Sunday

Plans for the celebration of the Festival of the Reformation at St. John's Lutheran church have been completed for the special service on Sunday at 11 a. m. This celebration marks the 434th anniversary of the first step in the Protestant Reformation. It was on that day that Dr. Martin Luther challenged to debate with leaders of the church, concerning certain practices for which he found no basis in the Bible. Throughout the world, Lutherans and many other Protestants will celebrate this event, since it marked the birth of Protestantism in the world.

Tomorrow morning, Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlens, pastor of St. John's, will conduct the service and preach on the subject "The Way to Freedom." Robert Cathcart, organist and choirmaster of St. John's will present "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" as a prelude. St. John's choir will sing "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" and "The Heavens Are Telling."

The session of the church school and Bible classes at 9:45 a. m. will also mark the event in an appropriate manner. The vespers have been dispensed with so that members may further celebrate this great historical event at either the Reformation rally and service by the Lutherans of the Easton area at St. Luke's church, Easton, at 7:30 p. m. or the county-wide celebration at the East Stroudsburg Methodist church, also at 7:30.

Interest In General Election November 6 Begins To Rise

Both Parties Seek To Fill County Offices

Voters of Monroe county are beginning to warm up slowly to a major election on November 6 when six of the most important county offices will be filled, decision will be made on voting machines in five communities and on Sunday movies in another.

It is no secret that the Republican party leadership and its members are seeking to put two county commissioners in the Court House for the first time in history.

Both parties have a full slate of candidates at county level. At local level—boroughs and townships—while there may be some vacancies on the ballot, candidates will be seeking election on a write-in or sticker basis so that in effect there will be a candidate for every office.

Added to the local offices and local questions which the county's voters will pass on November 6, there are two amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Both affect the City of Philadelphia. The major amendment provides for City-County consolidation of Philadelphia. Both Philadelphia county and city are exact as to boundaries. There is no organized opposition to approval of this amendment by the people. No one outside Philadelphia will be affected by the consolidation.

A new charter has been approved in an effort to modernize Philadelphia's governmental structure and to provide a larger degree of home rule in this move to bring functions of Philadelphia county government under city control. People of the city have approved the charter, but a state-wide vote is required before the change becomes effective.

The other amendment carries no ripper provisions.

The Republicans in Monroe county are pinning their hopes for two commissioners in the court house on Sheriff Amzi F. Altomero and W. Adolph Rake, local contractor.

Democrats have as their candidates Granville Shiffer, their county chairman who is seeking a second term, and George E. Shick, who has served three terms in the office and is seeking it again after a one-term lay-off.

This contest carries the edge in interest over all others.

Voters will also have before them a voting decision on these other important offices:

Sheriff with Jacob Altomero, Democrat opposing Chief Deputy Sheriff Victor Henning, Republican.

District attorney with Detlef A. Hansen, Democratic incumbent, opposing Attorney Elmer D. Christine, Republican.

Prothonotary & clerk of the courts with Claude E. Metzgar, Democratic incumbent seeking a fourth term, opposing James Gould, Effort dairyman.

Register and recorder with Floyd Butz, Democratic incumbent for a second term opposing George Smith of Middle Smithfield township.

County auditor with Mahlon Besecker and Monroe Brong, Democratic incumbents opposing Mrs. Mary Teeter Garcia and John Wernett, Republicans.

In the auditor race Mrs. Garcia is an incumbent and here again it would appear that Republicans are seeking to become the majority office holders.

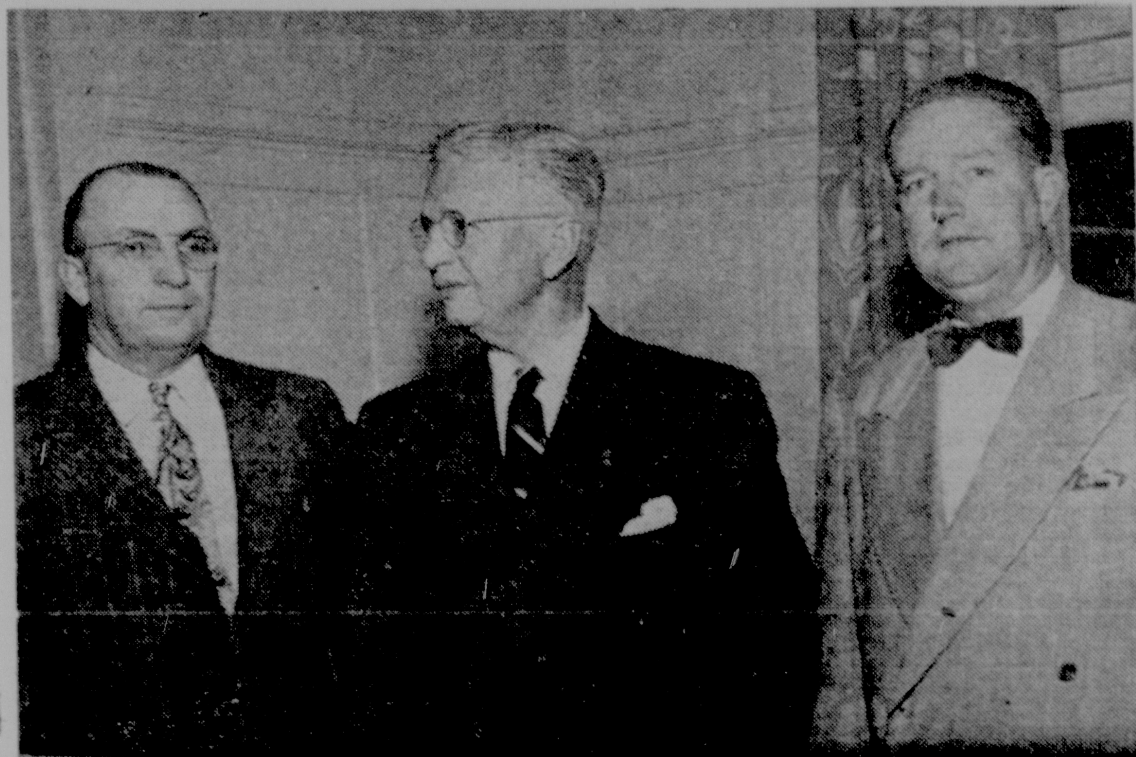

Numerous councilmanic, school director, justice of the peace, township supervisor, etc. battles are being fought out on the neighbor-to-neighbor level in the county.

These contests are expected to swell interests in the campaign.

For the first time in some 14 years there is a concerted movement towards allowing voters to say yes or no on the question of whether the County of Monroe should buy voting machines for their use in their own voting districts.

Vote will be taken on the voting machine question in Coolbaugh Township, Middle Stroud, Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Smithfield Townships. There has been no apparent opposition to the proposal up to the present.

Hamilton Township voters will be asked to pass on Sunday movies, a move initiated by the owners and operators of the drive-in theater now operating off Route 611 near Bartonville.

Walter Denounces McCarthy In Address At County Rally

Rep. Francis E. Walter, of the 20th Congressional district, the principal speaker at the meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Monroe County, dwelt on general world conditions, criticized the Sen. Joseph McCarthy accusations and defended President Harry S. Truman's decision in connection with hostilities in Korea.

The meeting held last night at the Bartonville hotel was attended by the party candidates in the county, committeemen and women and members of the club.

Miss Lella Merwin, Mount Pocono, secretary of the club, called the meeting to order and District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen, the president, was in charge. Also in attendance were Daniel Krynick and Van D. Yetter Jr., the vice presidents of the club.

Democratic candidates for county offices were presented as follows: Granville Shiffer, George Shick, Jake Altomero, Claude E. Metzgar, Floyd Butz and Mr. Hansen. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Congressman Walter, who is leaving November 7 for England and Paris on U. N. matters is chairman of the Congressional Un-American committee, chairman of the Immigration committee and ranking member of the Congressional Judiciary group. In speaking of world conditions, he told of the necessity of building up the armed forces to the point that Russia would no longer be able to maintain its continuing threats.

He stated that obviously the U. N. countries would not drop the atom bomb because it is well known that Russia has the bomb and within a matter of minutes or hours could knock out London and Paris and other U. N. capitals in Europe, which would leave the U. S. alone.

He mentioned the fact that when President Truman made his decision to fight the Communists in Korea that he had the support of 90 per cent of the responsible newspapers throughout the United States.

Insofar as criticism of dishonesty in government was concerned, the speaker declared that the Democratic administration brought it to light. He severely criticized Senator McCarthy who he said made a lot of noise when he accused 287 persons in the State department as being Communists. Each time he talked, McCarthy cut down the number and finally wound up talking about 50, then failed to prove his charges, Walter said. The only three that were proven, Congressman Walter said, were uncovered by the Un-American Activities committee, of which he is chairman.

Alleged Insanitary, Hazardous Conditions Reported After Officers Inspect Schools

Saylorsburg—Insanitary and hazardous conditions at several Hamilton township schools again were reported following inspections yesterday by Walter May, county health officer.

Inspections came on the heels of a meeting at Sciota Thursday of the newly-formed Hamilton Township Civic league.

At the meeting, members and officials investigating conditions at township schools had received the protests of a number of residents.

Among those protesting were parents, league members, and Henry Feiler, teacher at Polk Valley school—one of those most strongly criticized by May.

May made the inspections yesterday. He said he found the same insanitary conditions he had reported to a meeting of the school board at Kellersville last spring.

The inspections were made, he said, to see if corrections ordered by H. Clay Hall, chief of school sanitation, department of health, Harrisburg, had been complied with.

May said the letter from Harrisburg to the school board was dated Oct. 11. It presumably had been received by the board secretary, Ray Van Buskirk, of Saylorsburg.

May said he had made a number of inspections in the last year. In the most recent—September—he had reported to Harrisburg that:

The Polk Valley school was supposed to have a dry pit privy, but that surface seepage had filled the privy vault up to the ground level. He recommended grading of the surface to prevent water from filling the privy.

May also said:

One—Drinking water at Bull Run school does not meet state health specifications.

Two—At "four or five" of the eight township schools, doors open inward instead of outward—contrary to State regulation—and are a hazard in case of fire.

Three—There are no metal floor coverings under the old-fashioned coal or wood burning stoves.

May added that ventilating boards are needed under the windows of all schools to prevent drafts from blowing directly on children when teachers are forced to air the rooms.

"I was before the board at Kellersville last spring," he said yesterday. "I told them the conditions then."

"But nothing has been done," Harrisburg said. "Kindly advise us of action taken by the board in this matter." May quoted from a letter.

"But we can't get any action at all," he added.

At Bull Run school, May said, drinking water is hauled from the nearest house in a bucket, then poured into a stone crock at the school. Because the water fails to meet State health requirements, the teacher at the school is resorting to dosing the water with chlorine before permitting pupils to drink it.

Alfred Kresge, a school board member, said yesterday that he had been told only after this month's board meeting to have the privy condition corrected.

The responsibility was delegated by Van Buskirk.

Kresge said he had already had engineers inspect the site. They declared a septic tank would be impractical. Moving the privy—Van Buskirk's plan—would not correct the condition either, they said.

Kresge said he will line up grading equipment today owned by a Tannersville firm. The grading, he said, "could be done in a day."

The Civic league Thursday night moved to write directly to Harrisburg in an effort to get remedial action, and to enlist the aid of Senator Montgomery F. Crowe, of Stroudsburg.

Children Attend Hallowe'en Party

Delaware Water Gap—Twenty-one children, masquerading, attended a Hallowe'en party sponsored by the Junior Youth fellowship of Delaware Water Gap, Thursday night, in the Presbyterian church of the Mountain.

Fred Jennings and Dean Jacobson won prizes for the best costumes, and all the children took part in games and a scavenger hunt.

Mrs. Herbert Newton and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard were advisers and chaperones for the party.

Dollars the Easy Way

American tourists spent a billion dollars abroad last year—it may be more this year.

It's the easiest way we know of to get much-needed dollars to Europe. They're not dollars taken from American taxpayers—they're pleasure dollars, the easy dollars of travelers poured directly into the economy of the host country.

Pan American Airways uses this as a talking point for low-cost tourist fares across the Atlantic. We think it is a strong point. Four million additional Americans who would go abroad if they could—students, teachers, two-weeks vacationists—would leave twice as many dollars in Europe.

Pan American proposes to start a low-fare coach service between New York and London next April at $405 round trip—$306 less than the present $711 first-class round-trip fare. Its competitors—nine foreign lines and one American line—are dragging their feet.

A united front by the two American lines Pan Am and Trans World—would be the first step toward winning agreement from the foreign lines on a specific program. On Friday of this week a hearing is scheduled before the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington to discuss all aspects of the air-tourist program.

The government officials concerned should do all in their power to bring about an understanding along the lines advanced by Pan Am not only as an accommodation to the American traveling public but in the interest of strengthening the economy of Western Europe.

No White Elephant

Somebody almost steamed up a gift for President Truman when the story went around Washington last Spring that the King of Cambodia was giving the President a white elephant.

The King, as it turned out, had no such plans, but when he heard of it he said he would.

Followed then five months of diplomatic maneuvering to get the elephant—non-white, as it turned out—shipped to the U. S. This intricate correspondence has just been revealed.

The elephant couldn't be flown to a ship because he'd get "air sick." Truckers were afraid of him. Finding a mahout (elephant driver) to make the long trip proved difficult. And then after the elephant got half-way around the world, he up and died.

The President probably would have appreciated that elephant, because at one point in the correspondence it was pointed out he was "supposed to be very well behaved."

Way things have been going on in Washington lately, Mr. Truman could use some good behavior, even from a Cambodian elephant.

Sen. Lester Hunt, who conducted the Biloxi hearings on "Gold Coast" gambling, says he plans to file a "very critical" report with the Senate Preparedness subcommittee which he represented.

Well, we should think he would!

The gist of the testimony was:

1—That the main industry of the so-called "Gold Coast" is gambling.

2—That the main source of revenue for this main industry is the $4-million-a-month payroll at Keesler Field, one of the Air Force's biggest bases.

Here is a whole community, then, gaining its principal livelihood by shamelessly syphoning off the pay of uniformed men.

And if Senator Hunt goes through with his threat to censure the Air Force itself for taking only "limited" action to stop this racket, he will be doing no more than his duty.

On the same day Senator Hunt held his hearing, Biloxi was host to a conference on crime prevention. No more appropriate place could have been found.

Try And Stop Me

When I stopped off at Ann Arbor, a Michigan freshman trying out for the Daily, asked me, "Wouldn't it have been great if Abraham Lincoln could have met Florence Ziegfeld? I can see the headline now: Ab and Flo..." The same boy prodigy told me, "Those 'Stop, Look, and Listen' signs are the bunk. I did stop once, and I looked, and I listened—and the only thing I could hear was the soplomone behind me smacking into my gas tank."

A customer of Mr. Greco's elite tonorial parlor complained one morning that a new barber was driving him crazy with his incessant chatter. Mr. Greco observed mildly, "According to the Constitution of the United States, he's got a right to talk." "That may be," admitted the customer, "but the United States has a constitution that can stand it. Mine can't!"

Hollywood—Kirk Douglas, son of immigrant Russians, plans to go to several West European countries in a few months to tell young people "what a guy in America thinks about."

"I want to stimulate curiosity about America among young people in other countries," the actor explained. "I think we have a lot in common. If we realize that more, we'd understand each other better."

Kirk will travel under United Nations auspices after spending a few weeks at UN headquarters in New York, touring the ropes and meeting foreign representatives. "I'll probably go to Paris, Rome, London, and one German-speaking country," he said. "I speak German pretty well, am working on French, and think I could acquire a smattering of Italian before I leave."

The blond actor said he'd been thinking about such a trip for a couple of years. His plans solidified in conversations with Mogens Skot-Hansen, UN representative here, and Ben Cohn, assistant to Trygve Lie.

"I was afraid it would appear presumptuous," Kirk continued while sprawled on his dressing room davenport. "I'm not going because I think I can give the world advice. I just represent an average-type American. My parents came here not having any of the advantages that we, as Americans, take for granted."

Kirk's father was a fruit peddler and odd-job man in Amsterdam, N. Y., where Kirk was born 34 years ago. The actor, born Issur Danielovitch, changed his name to "something that would look good in lights."

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Spying Diplomats

There seems to be no end to the new techniques which the Soviet countries employ to keep the United States in turmoil. Strikes in American industries in which Communist union participate are examples of disturbance by remote control.

The main line for such activity is not from the American Communist party but from a network of embassies and consulates out of which they operate under diplomatic immunity. Such immunity is also extended to those connected with the United Nations.

J. Edgar Hoover, last year, said of this: "Experience has revealed that foreign espionage agents seek the protection of a legal cover. By that I mean they seek admission into the United States on diplomatic passports. They seek assignments to some official foreign agency and thus conceal themselves under the diplomatic cloak of immunity. To further avert suspicion, a high-ranking espionage agent may very well be employed as a clerk or in some minor capacity in a foreign establishment. However, when he speaks, those with higher-sounding titles follow his orders without question..."

The McCarran committee reports:

"The chief of the investigation section of the Immigration and Naturalization Service testified that he had no doubt in his mind that the control and direction of the Communist apparatus in the United States is centered in aliens who are in the consulates, embassies, and international organizations in the United States..."

These two quotations show how easy it is for a foreign country to plant an espionage organization within the United States which would not only ply its nefarious trade but would enjoy immunity from our laws and the protective coverage of a diplomatic exequatur. From July, 1947 until March, 1951, 3,616 diplomatic visas were granted persons from Soviet countries.

Lord Vansittart, who for many years was the chief permanent official of the British foreign office, once made this very interesting point:

"... under the old school, immunity was limited to the diplomatic staff. There were considerable doubts whether it even extended to the consular personnel. Certainly no one would ever have thought of extending the claim to any other body..."

"With the vicious extension of the province of diplomacy has come a corresponding exaggeration of the claim for immunity. When all the sorts of rogues are part of the machinery, all sorts of devices must be thought up to cover them. The process began in the greatly overstaffed Communist trade agencies—thin concealment indeed, seeing the small trade done by them..."

He might have added that in the old days anyone associated with the diplomatic services was expected to be a gentleman and to engage in no activities which might bring discredit upon his country. In the current "Democratic" era, such gentility is out of vogue. When, as in England, Tass representatives claim diplomatic immunity, the whole process has reached a new low, for while Tass regards itself as part of the press, it is actually owned by the Soviet government.

So is everything else in every Soviet country. It would be like granting the operator of a sewer system diplomatic immunity because the government owns the sewer. I am sure that could happen too.

The State department seems to be delicate in such matters, disliking apparently to keep anyone out of the United States who has a diplomatic passport. There is the case of Roman Kutylowski, president of the Gdynia—America line, on whose ship, "Batory," Gerhart Eisler escaped. The immigration and naturalization service sought to deport him and locked him up on Ellis Island. But he was let off by order of the State department. This is the testimony between the committee and the service's chief investigator.

"Mr. Arens. Now do you have information as to who it was in the State department who made that representation?"

"Mr. Pennington. The board of immigration's discussion of February 1, 1951, indicates they have a letter from the Secretary of State dated January 29, 1951. That letter, however, does not appear in the New York file and would probably be found in the department file."

"Mr. Arens. Now who in the State department would pass upon this type of case to make the representation to the justice department?"

"Mr. Pennington. That I can't answer. I assume that the correspondence would be signed by either the secretary or the under secretary. I can only assume that, however."

So Mr. Kutylowski was released from Ellis Island because of some kind of diplomatic special privilege.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Exodus 1-2

By Newman Campbell

We are beginning a new book in the Bible with this lesson. It is named Exodus, which means "a going out." It tells of the Jews' sufferings under the Pharaohs who "knew not Joseph," and their final return to Canaan. Seventy souls of Jacob's family accompanied him to Egypt, and many more must have been with them, counting their servants etc. The generation of Joseph had died. The reigning monarchs had forgotten him, but they were troubled by the fact that from those who had come to Egypt, there had risen a great and mighty people who might, the reigning Pharaoh thought, take sides with an enemy in case of an attack on the country.

The Pharaoh's first thought was that if he made them work hard enough, many might die of exhaustion, so he made them build him two cities, Pithom and Raamses. He set brutal taskmasters over the workers who kept driving them to their labors.

The Hebrews still multiplied under this cruel treatment, so the Pharaoh next told the Israelish midwives to kill every male child born to a Hebrew mother. The midwives refused, however, because they feared God and they gave the king the excuse that the Hebrew mothers' babies were born before the midwives arrived.

The next plan to rid the country of Hebrews was a command to all the people, that whenever a male child was born to a Jewish mother, they were to throw it into the Nile. How many helpless infants were sacrificed in that dreadful manner we do not know, but one mother hid her newly-born son, until he was too old to be concealed.

Then she fashioned an ark or basket of bulrushes, made it watertight with pitch, and after putting the baby into it, she set it among the tall grasses at the side of the river. She posted the child's sister near the spot, to watch and see what became of him.

The Pharaoh's daughter came to the river that morning to bathe, accompanied by her hand-maidens. She saw the ark among the flags and sent a maid to fetch it to her. The baby began to cry, and the princess heard it was touched, so that she decided to adopt it although she knew it was a Jewish child.

The baby's sister came to the princess then and asked if she should get a Hebrew woman to nurse the child for her. She assented and so the mother nursed the boy and then brought him to the princess, who named him Moses, saying, "Because I drew him out of the water." She adopted the child as her son.

Moses was brought up in the Egyptian court and educated well. He, apparently, never lost touch with his countrymen, however, and as he grew to manhood he fiercely resented the way the Jews were treated.

One day he watched the burdens imposed upon them, and when he saw an Egyptian overseer strike one of his brethren, he became so infuriated that, looking about him and seeing (as he thought) no one looking, he killed the Egyptian and hid his body in the sand.

Someone had seen him, however, and taunted him with the murder next day. Thinking that the thing was known to many, Moses fled from Egypt before the Pharaoh could revenge the deed. He went to Midian.

Now, the priest of Midian had seven daughters whose duty it was to water their father's flock, but some surly and selfish shepherds drove the girls away from the watering troughs.

Moses took their part, and helped them with the watering,

'Call him,' the father said, 'that he may eat bread.'"

Moses was content to dwell with Reuel, the priest, who gave him one of his daughters, Zipporah, for his wife, and two sons were born of the marriage. During the time Moses dwelt in Midian, the Pharaoh died. This was the calm period of Moses' life, when undoubtedly Jehovah was maturing and training him for the work he had in store for him.

Meanwhile, the Hebrews, slaves in Egypt, called upon God to release them from their unbearable bondage. "And God heard their groanings, and God remembered His covenant with Abraham, with Isaac and with Jacob. And God looked upon the children of Israel, and God had respect unto them."

This most persecuted race still possesses its amazing vitality. After 18 centuries of persecution, culminating in the greatest of all in which six million were slain in 10 years, the race still has the strength and ability to set up its own government in the face of great odds, in its own land of Israel.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandels

Mary Garden, famous opera star of a by-gone era, told a reporter upon her recent arrival in the United States that she never got married because she never found the right man.

"I don't like dumb men," she said, thus eliminating quite a proportion of us males. Mary Garden, still a beautiful woman is now in her seventies. She has had many, many proposals.

"But no swains ever filled the bill."

Who is the right man? I suppose every girl has a different idea of him.

To one he is a knight in shining armor, the "dream man."

To others he is the Ropalong Cassidy type or the Franchot Tone type or the Laurence Olivier type.

Still others may prefer the Jimmy Durante or the Ed Wynn type.

There is no accounting for tastes.

And it is good that it is so. There seems to be a Jack for almost every Jill—that is, every Jill who really WANTS to get married and is not any too particular about her choice.

Mary Garden, of course, could afford to wait for "the right man."

Others are not so lucky—and fortunately many girls seem to be able to fall in love with "a dumb man" and make the best of the deal.

A lot of poets — and also a lot of plain American girls — seem to have the idea that there is only ONE man for each female, and that somehow fate will bring them together.

Supposing that man lives in Timbuctoo or in Asia or somewhere else in the far distance?

There would be many more spinsters and many more bachelors in this world if the girl or the boy would have to wait for that one and only.

I sort of think that LOVE — the great essential for a successful marriage—is a rather flexible proposition.

Else why is it that so many secretaries marry their bosses, so many nurses marry doctors, so many actresses marry actors?

Some years ago the word "affinity" was quite popular.

It was said that where there is affinity there soon is love, and where there is love there usually is marriage.

One of Webster's definitions of "affinity" is "a spiritual relationship or attraction held to exist between certain persons, especially persons of opposite sex."

The more often and more closely two people of the opposite sex are thrown together the more apt there is to be "affinity."

I would recommend to all girls who have the desire to get married not to be too romantic or finicky about their "right man."

You can't make anybody love you nor can you force yourself to love anybody.

But many a marriage based on "spiritual relationship" has ripened into love; while many a marriage based on love turned out to be a complete flop.

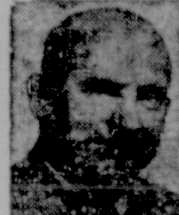

Keep your eyes open, girls, the right man may live or work next door to you.

Letter To A Visitor

Dear Mayor Impellitteri:

Welcome to New York and may your visit here be a pleasant one. The city and the manners and habits here will seem odd to you, at first, but you will please make allowances. One thing you will observe above all else is that the city leaves nothing undone to make things happy for the newcomer in its midst. I hope you will excuse the failure to provide a battery welcome, the usual Broadway parade and keys to the city. (Grover Whalen said you had been here before. But this was a long time ago and your visit at that time was brief.)

When you were last in New York, the City Hall, the budget and Tammany were considered away uptown. Ground had just been broken for Rudolph Halley. There was talk of tearing down the elevated railroad and Frank Costello, Leo Durocher, the 10-cent fare, Barnum's Museum, and the Rosenthal murder case was doing well. The Dodgess, the Brooklyn Grand Jury Judge, Leinowitz and the Kefauver Committee were ahead by 13 full games. Jackie Robinson, Hill Prince, the Harry Thaw trial and the Floradora Sextette were the toasts of the town. Bob Moses hadn't perfected the atom bomb so it could be delivered BY LETTER OR CARRIER PIGEON.

Reles was still in his room in that Coney Island Hotel, Bill McAdoo was talking of a tunnel between New York and Jersey City, cigars were 5 cents, the common people could afford cigarettes, the Survivors of the Blitzard of 1885 had just met and formed an association, and Sharkey was fighting Jeffries, not Halley. The Mayor of New York was promising to clean up Tammany, purify the city government, garbage was being collected daily and supplies laid needed by the G. I. in Korea were not being smilingly held up on New York docks. There was talk of doing something about smoke control, traffic congestion and the Judge Crater case. Getrude Ederle had just swum the channel and the Giants had begun the search for good pitchers. Ah, the good old days when you were here last, Vinnie, my lad!

How the old place has changed! You can now travel from Park Row to Tammany Hall entirely by underground, horse cars used only to carry out campaign pledges and the Gracie Mansion has tenants in it every now and then. How are things in the Caribbean, the Mediterranean, the Old World generally? Is there anything in the report you may run for the office of roving field agent for U. N.? And how do you like the New York skyline, American cooking, native taxicabs and North American music? Anyhow, again a hearty welcome and try to feel at ease here. If you want a guide and maps phone me.

All good wishes, Elmer.

P. S. Don't tell us New York is all right for a vacation but you would hate to live here all the time.

Junior Women Make Aprons For Holidays

Even though housewives have to work during the holidays, they can still look festive, is the way the Junior Women's club figured which is why the committee in charge this year chose aprons instead of Christmas stockings for their pre-holiday project.

And such aprons, bright holiday colors, trimmed with rick-rack which forms a Christmas tree decorated with sequin ornaments.

The group is working several nights a week in the home economics department at Stroudsburg High school. They have set 200 aprons as their limit, and are now receiving orders from any one interested in buying them for gifts or for their own holiday wear.

Proceeds from the sale of the aprons will go into the club's Christmas charities, which will again provide individual gifts for children living in foster homes.

Just Between Us

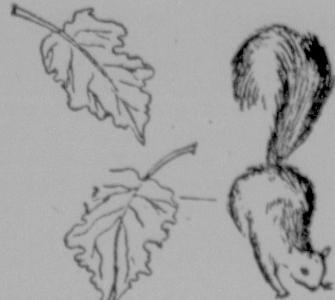

—By Bobby Westbrook

You know, this time of year you begin thinking longingly of how nice it's going to be to be grandparents. Or make that great-grandparents, because in the current rush of parties for teen-agers, everybody in the family under 85 gets drafted in some capacity.

Take a typical mother's schedule—just peaceful ironing, washing, Friday cleaning and weekend marketing—until 3:30 and then everything explodes. One child for a dentist appointment; another for part of the Halloween costume still in the attic; back for the first who forgot he had to take apples for the apple hobbing and has to do it with a flashlight, hear or no bear; while the second suddenly remembers that the hay-ride is at 6:30, not 7:30, and where's daddy's fur hat?

Meanwhile the dinner you'd planned stays in the icebox, and you make with the canopener in between answering the phone six times as the girls check on what other girls are wearing. Then try to deliver both of them at exactly the same time to spots five miles apart.

All this isn't made any more relaxing by the thought that you're supposed to make like a parent at the Halloween party later and then round up the crowd after-

District Meeting

Effort — The district meeting of Rebekah lodges will meet at the IOOF hall in Effort, on November 8.

Most books for young mothers have a paragraph reading, "If baby cries persistently, check his clothes to see that no pins are picking him." Even the Gallup Poll might hesitate to figure how many little tykes have been jostled about on the strength of this advice while they screamed lustily for food or water.

Personal experiences along this line rushed back yesterday as I examined a new diaper pin in the Wyckoff Infant's Department. Safe-T-Lox, as it is called, wears a colored plastic hood that grips a pin so securely only an adult can open it. There are three on a card for 25 cents.

Equally good Health Insurance for baby is a pair of Safety Sissors with rounded tips. The manufacturer wants a happy baby... not Mommie... to be the family cult.

It is amazing how many items there are at Wyckoff's to keep yours from being a "Melancholy Baby." There are clips to anchor his carriage robe, at $1.19 for plastic and $1.29 for satin; turtle-shaped plastic bib holders at fifty cents; feeding dishes of plastic for $1.98, or at $2.98 if the bottom is equipped with a suction cup; chrome and ceramic "stay-hot" dishes at $4.50, and jar sets ranging in price from $1.98 to $4.98, depending upon whether the trays are glass, plastic, or basketry.

Single thermometers for the bath cost 69 cents, but there are sets of three for nursery, tub and food at $1.49. Hot water bottles are $1.69 and for the toddler there's a handsome red and white "Hi-Diddle-Dee" step-up stool for $3.50. This particular item is just the thing for the little fellow learning to hang his clothes in the closet on those pretty plastic hangers that cost $1.00 a box. And these are only a few of many ideas to crown the happiness of some Little Prince (or Princess) Charming.

Rye, Baby Bunting. Why do folks go hunting To find a little gift for you When any one of these would do?

Mrs. Lesoine, 68, Succumbs In Hospital

Mrs. Elizabeth P. Lesoine, 68, East Stroudsburg RD 3, died at 10 p.m. Thursday at the University of Pennsylvania hospital in Philadelphia. She had been in failing health for the past six months.

She was born in Middle Smithfield township, the daughter of the late James Place, and had lived all her life in Monroe county. Mrs. Lesoine was a member of the Baptist church in East Stroudsburg.

Surviving are her husband, Louis Lesoine, at home; one son, Ralph K. Lesoine, East Stroudsburg; three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Kinney, Philadelphia and Mrs. Albert Drake, Montour Falls, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lantierman funeral home, Rev. Norman Savage officiating. Interment will be in the Stroudsburg cemetery. Friends may pay their respects from 7 to 9 tonight.

Another Large Crowd Attends 'Dough' Auction

Once again it was "standing room only" at the Sherman Theatre as the third "Easy Dough" auction was held Thursday night. A spirit-ed-auction-conscious audience helped to make it one of the most successful "Easy Dough" auctions to date.

D. D. Adams, Mr. "Easy Dough" himself, had the overflow audience captivated with his staccato, smooth-flowing auctioneering double talk, and the merchandise was delivered to the highest bidders in short order.

There will be two more of these crowd-pleasing "Easy Dough" auctions to complete the program and the merchandise still to be auctioned off is apt to surpass all the previous offerings, Mr. Adams said. The buying public is urged to save the "Easy Dough" and attend the next two auctions.

Local High School Gridders Play On Foreign Fields Today

Mountaineers To Feature New Faces

Stroudsburg High, with several new faces to play an important part in the destinies of the Mountaineers for the balance of the season, will seek to return to the victory column today when the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis stack up against a strong Catawagua High contingent, on the latter's home grounds. The kickoff is listed for 2 p.m.

The Mountaineers will attempt to improve upon a record that includes only two wins in six trips to the post this year.

LEHIGH VALLEY LEAGUE
Team	W	L	T	Pct.
East Stroudsburg	4	0	0	1.000
Easton	3	1	0	.750
Whitehall	2	1	1	.667
Shillington	2	2	0	.500
Catawagua	1	2	0	.333
Stroudsburg	1	2	0	.333
Northampton	0	3	1	.000
Lehighton	0	3	0	.000

Stroudsburg will also run entirely from the "T" formation today, dropping the single wing and combination setup entirely.

However, on defense Bachman will replace Williams at left end, Bill Morman and Tom Berger will handle the tackle berths, while the remainder of the forward wall remains the same.

The defensive backfield will be made up of Don Garaventi, Shook, Weingartner and Fetherman.

Stroudsburg will be forced to meet the Rough Riders with its end positions weakened. Wingman Williams, Bachman and Russ Irwin have missed much of this week's practice because of intestinal gripe.

Following today's encounter the Mountaineers have three games remaining, against Shillington, Northampton and Lehighton, in that order. However, only the Shillington game will be held at Gordon Giffels field.

United States Wins Event

Harrisburg (AP) — The United States won the international low-score jumping title at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show in the afternoon but a green Mexican mount made a tremendous comeback last night to win the International Open Jumping.

Resorte II, the same mount that cost Mexico the three-day international low-score competition Monday night by collecting 68 faults, twice circled the grueling ten-jump course to win the night event.

Ridden by Capt. Victor Carrillo, the high-spirited chestnut gelding won the event in a three-way jumpoff that saw three entries turn in clean performances with the barrier raised.

The five-year-old Rosette, schooled only since last June, dashed over the course in the fast time of 40 2/5 seconds. He beat out Loverain, ridden by Alvaro De Toledo, of Brazil, clocked at 47 4/5 seconds.

Cordoves, ridden by Col. Humberto Mariles, of Mexico, completed the jumpoff in 58 seconds for third. Rosette twice threw Carrillo on Monday night before a high cross bar jump. He was disqualified and penalized the 68 faults when he refused the third time.

Eight horses tied for fourth place with one knockdown each over the original course.

Fourth Place
They were the United States' Arthur McCashin on Pale Face; Canada's Charles Baker, Jr., on Star Clift; Tom Gayford on Skip Across and Robert Ballard on Re-Ject; Ireland's Capt. Michael J. Tubridy on Aherlow; Brazil's Major Elói Menezes on Bigua, and Ruben Uriza, on India, and Lt. Jorge Rodriguez on Payaso, both from the Mexican school of equitation.

The United States tonight will receive its second straight trophy for winning the important three-day low score competition.

Marciano Puts End To Louis' Comeback Hopes

Brown Bomber Admits Old Age, But Delays Retirement Talk

New York, (AP)—"Joe, are you ready to retire?" That was the first question asked of Joe Louis last night as the former great heavyweight champion of the world lay on a rubbering table following his stunning eight-round knockout by "Rocky" Marciano.

Winner Sorry It Had To Be Former Champ

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.
New York (AP)—In a madhouse that served as Rocky Marciano's refuge after the Brooklyn, Mass., beller had knocked out former champion Joe Louis, a serious looking young man with a bruised face said:

"I was glad I won, but I felt sorry I had to do it to him." Marciano's exultation over this important victory seemed entirely synthetic. He grinned for the photographers and hugged Charlie Goldman, his pudgy little trainer. But he appeared to regard it all as part of a night's work.

"I knew I was going to catch him with a left hook. He was dropping his right," Marciano explained calmly.

"When I hit him the last time, I knew that was going to do it because he dropped his right."

The last time apparently referred to the perfect left hook to the point of the chin that floored the former world champion for a count of eight. "Rocky" rushed in after that, slammed in a couple more lefts and then threw his right as Louis hung helplessly on the ropes.

Evidence
Someone asked if Louis' punches had hurt and Rocky nodded his head.

"His jabs," He replied. Marciano's face bore evidence that the one-time "Dark Destroyer" still can jab with plenty of authority. He had a cut over his right eye and a dark, swelling "mouse" under it. He also was marked about the right eye.

The scene inside the room, where Marciano first sat calmly in a corner, then sought a less crowded perch atop a rubbering table, was calm in comparison to that outside.

In the narrow corridor under the arena, a hundred or more shoving, yelling fans, most of them claiming to be Rocky's pals or relatives, sought admittance to the little room. A half dozen policemen were hard-pressed to keep them out. A reporter asked if it was safe to leave and a cop at the door laughed: "Are you kidding?"

Backfield Switch Listed At Eastburg

An injury riddled East Stroudsburg High school grid machine will try its luck against Coplay High today, on the latter's home field, at 2 p.m. The Eastburg contingent will attempt to put its record on the winning side of the ledger for the first time this season in this Lehigh-Northampton league game.

The Cavaliers have been at the 500 mark on two different occasions thus far in the 1950 campaign, but they have never won more games than they have lost.

However, the task of defeating Coplay is tougher than it would have been at any other time in the present campaign, as two of Coach Jack Kist's first stringers are virtually certain not to see any action today, while a third remains on the doubtful list.

Captain Marlin "Ducky" Martz, hard running left halfback, is certain not to play against Coplay, as the number one offensive thrust sprained an ankle in the Wilson Borough game last week and is still limping.

Jim Fritz, a first string end, is also practically certain of not playing against Coplay, as the tall wingman developed water on the knee following the Wilson encounter.

Doubtful
Martz's number one replacement, Jim Kintz, who has developed into an outstanding offensive performer, is the doubtful performer. Kintz suffered a sprained hip during the Wilson contest, but reports he is ready for action now. However, Kist is hesitant about using him in this contest.

The number of important injuries has forced the East Stroudsburg brain trust to vamp their plans for today's battle. The line will remain intact with Dick Transue at left end, Walt Peeney or Paul Anderson, left tackle; Willard Butz, left guard; Dick London, center; Bill "Bucky" Rogers or Carl Smith, right guard; Joe Shea, right tackle, and Bill Propst, right end.

However, two backfield spots have been changed as Dick Merrigan has been moved from right to left halfback and Leon Alberts has taken over the right half duties. Reliable Paul "Candy" Miller will be in his usual quarterback slot, while either George Litts or John "Juice" Arnt starts at fullback.

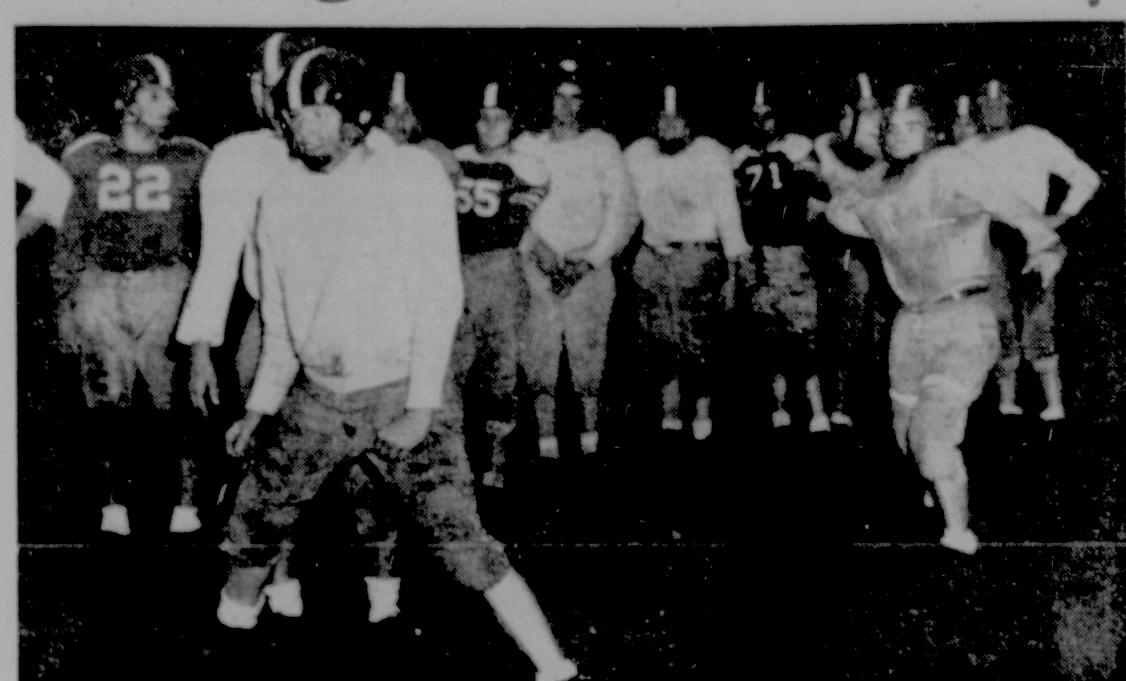

Field Hockey Match Today

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will take part in a field hockey match on Normal Hill today at 3 p. m., with College Mercier, of Dallas, Pa., providing the opposition.

Third Outing
The outing will be the third of the season for the Warriors, who battled Beaver College to a 1-1 tie in the opening match of the season. In the second game two ESSSTC squads battled each other in a special Homecoming Day affair.

One Man Show

Detroit (AP) — Don Babers, Oklahoma A & M's passing and running demon, fired two touchdown passes and scored once himself as the Missouri Valley Conference leaders thumped Detroit 20-7 here last night.

ESSTC Meets Bridgeport Under Lights

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, with two victories and the same number of setbacks, will be looking for its third favorable football nod of the campaign today when the charges of Coach Gene Martin take on the University of Bridgeport Purple Knights, at Bridgeport, Conn. The kickoff is listed for 8 p. m., at Candlelight Stadium.

Bill Jones, first string fullback, will be the only member of the ESSCT contingent unable to see action against the lads from the Nutmeg State, who the Warriors defeated last year, 25-6. Jones suffered a shoulder injury against West Chester and must remain out of action today.

Bridgeport, with only one victory and a tie out of six starts this season, will be out to avenge the licking they suffered under the lights at Gordon Giffels field last season.

Lineups
ESSSTC will undoubtedly lineup for the kickoff with the following gridders holding down positions in the forward wall: Bob Brown and Don Transue, ends; Al Sakovich and Dick Northrup, guards; Henry "Hank" Pearson and Howard "Howie" Penterbaugh, tackles, and Jim Harron, center.

The backfield will feature Bob Phelps, quarterback; Dick Pritchard, left halfback; Ed Bishop, right half, and probably Dick Dinger at fullback in place of Jones. Harry Steever and Art Schaare are also expected to see a lot of action in the ESSSTC backfield.

Thirty-three players, coaches Martin, George Ockershausen and Frank Grimm will be making the trip to Bridgeport from Normal Hill.

The Warriors have three games remaining following tonight's encounter, with Cortland, Ithaca and Rider in that order.

NOTICE
Positively no trespassing on lands owned by Charles Baltz and others posted by the Hamilton Township Hunting & Fishing Association.

Delaware Valley Speedway Presents Special Finale

Delaware Valley Speedway will close its gates on a very successful season tomorrow afternoon, with a special 50-lap event scheduled to bring down the curtain on the first year of operation for the half-mile dirt oval located off Rt. 209 near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport.

The program also calls for three qualifying heats and a semi-final grind.

One of the largest fields of the season, from Middletown, N. Y., Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown, all in Pennsylvania, and Oxford and Washington, N. J.

The action is scheduled to take place at the usual 2 p.m. starting time, with the stock car racing season reaching its peak at the local track.

Plenty of parking space is available at the half mile oval. Admission is listed at $1.25 for adults and 40 cents for children.

Roseto Invades Shenandoah

Roseto — Roseto's Redskins, changed the next time out when searching for victory number three of the 1951 campaign, stacked up against a highly regarded Shenandoah club tomorrow at 2 p. m., on the latter's home field.

Last Sunday the charges of Coach Ed Conti demonstrated their ability at Bangor's Memorial Park, in front of the home town fans, for the first time this season. The result was a 10-0 victory for the Redskins, over Miller Heights.

No Hurry For New PIAA Director

Lafayette, Pa. (AP)—A new executive director of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association may not be named for several weeks or even months, president Mark Funk said yesterday.

The Lafayette High school principal declined to identify any of the 30 candidates for the $6,000 a year position. It became vacant in September with the death of Edmund Wight.

Good Shape

Funk declared there is no hurry to fill the post because the office is running smoothly under direction of PIAA treasurer W. G. Girffith. Funk added:

"We've scheduled a board of control meeting for Monday at Harrisburg. At that time the 20 board members will determine a plan of procedure to follow in electing a successor to Mr. Wight."

Miami Runs Wild

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Miami's amazing Hurricanes, after playing dead through most of the first half, sprang into action suddenly last night to drive a big, tough Mississippi football team all over the Orange Bowl Stadium for a smashing 20-7 victory.

Jim Dooley, a rangy halfback, was the hero of the surprisingly one-sided triumph that must have lifted the Hurricanes many notches up in the national standings.

Former Kentucky Stars Reveal New Angles

New York, (AP)—Three former University of Kentucky basketball stars were indicted yesterday on charges of fixing a 1949 tournament game and at the same time were charged with conspiracy covering the team's entire 1948-49 schedule.

The District Attorney's office said the three also told of discussing fixes on nine other games.

Charges

The players — Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable — pleaded innocent and were released on $1,000 bail each. Five alleged fixers also were indicted and released on bail ranging from $2,500 to $10,000.

Groza and Beard were both former all-American players and members of the United States' championship olympic basketball team in 1948. Barnstable, a teammate, is coach at Manual High in Louisville.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Demetriou Family To Move To New Jersey Next Week

After two years' futile searching for a suitable Main St. location to re-open a restaurant, the Miltiades K. Demetriou family is leaving Stroudsburg.

Demetriou, born on the Isle of Cyprus, was operator for 18 years of Star restaurant, now Quick's lounge on Main St. near Seventh.

He and Mrs. Demetriou, with daughter Lucy Anna, 20, will leave their third floor apartment in the Andrews apartment Monday to take up residence in their newly-purchased home at North Bergen, N. J.

The couple plans to open a restaurant again — probably in New York City. It should give Demetriou that old familiar feeling: Before coming to Stroudsburg in 1921 he was manager of a 59th St. restaurant in New York City for 12 years.

A typically-American joiner (Chamber of Commerce, Lions, Red Cross, Business Men's association, Parent-Teachers association, treasurer for three years, American Hellenic Progressive Educational association, honorary president of a society which built a school in his native Cyprus), he came to the U. S. in 1914, at the age of 18, worked for the Greek-language paper "Atlantis" for ... a week.

In 1927 he took an 18-month trip back to Cyprus to visit relatives and meet his fiancée. Relatives had arranged the engagement. The pair had never met. Married, they returned to the U. S. and Demetriou became a citizen in 1928.

The couple closed their restaurant here to take a trip to Europe two years ago.

With daughter Lucy in tow, they visited Greece, Paris, Italy, England, Portugal. After a year of it the Demetriou returned to Stroudsburg to sum up their observations: "Communism is like the worm which grows into the tree and destroys it from within."
